CIRCUIT COURT NOW IN SESSION

Judge William A. Young Begins Session of Montgomery Circuit Court, Monday.

The May term of the Montgomery Circuit Court started Monday afternoon with Judge William A. Young presiding.

Several members of the jury who are farmers were anxious to have court continued for a couple of weeks in order to get caught up with their work which has been delayed owing to the rainy weather of the last three weeks and the judge was willing to accommodate them but when a vote was taken the jurors voted 18 to 15 in favor of holding the session now. The court will hurry through the docket as fast as possible and it is thought that court will be in session but a short time.

WE BEAT THE RECORD

A few days ago a farmer of Iowa claimed to have raised the tallest bluegrass ever grown and sent some of the grass to the Drovers Journal at Chicago, Ill., claiming that Iowa could beat Kentucky in growing tall bluegrass and challenging them to beat his tallest grass which was 37 inches long. Weil Bros., of Fayette county answered the challenge and sent the Drovers Journal some grass that measured 40 inches long. Today Mr. Andy Wills, whose farm is located on the Spence pike four miles east of Mt. Sterling, brought to this office and we now have it in the show window for the benefit of the public, bluegrass 55 inches long, so we now say to the gentleman of Iowa and also the gentlemen of Fayette county, if you want to raise the longest bluegrass come to Montgomery county and our friend, Andy Wills, will show you how the job is done.

Clyde Darsie delivering the sermon. Both of the exercises will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

DELIGHTFUL ENTERTAINMENT

Music lovers in Mt. Sterling and surrounding towns enjoyed a rare treat Friday night in a concert given at the High School Auditorium by Miss Mary Dan Harbeson, soprano, Mr. Robert Harbeson, tenor, and Mr. Nelson Weedon, pianist, under the auspices of the Presbyterian church. The program presented a variety of songs, which needs must be presented "Each in His Own Tongue" so to speak, but the singers found no difficulty in compassing the demands made by each of the composers. In the first number on the program, a duet, "Rose of My Heart" by Lohr, the voices of the singers keyed themselves in delightful modulation of tone color, renewing the old confidence of many of the listeners, as was evidenced by the warm applause. The program proceeded with growing delight as Miss Harbeson sang a group of songs, (a) "Fairy Piper" by Brewster, (b) "Lass O' Mine" by Maley, (c) "Sunbeams" by Ronald, all with characteristic intelligence and musical charm so satisfying to the listener. Mr. Harbeson was heard next in a group of songs, (a) "Passing By" by Purell, (b) "Mother Machree" and (c) "Philosophy" by Browning, which were treated in a delightfully sympathetic and wholly captivating vein.

Then the two singers together again in "Gray Days" and "When You and I were Young Maggie" found themselves in ever deepening sympathy and understanding, their voices reminding one at times of well rendered double-stopping on the Cello.

Mr. Weedon, so gifted on the piano in technique and interpretation, delighted the audience with his conception of "Am Meer (By the Sea)" by Shubert, the first measure having an unusual singing quality, despite the fact that he was at the mercy of a strange instrument; he was very happy in two familiar encores.

Miss Harbeson and Mr. Harbeson were especially convincing in their rendition of the always popular "When We Two were Maying," followed by "Nearest and Dearest" by Caraccioli. Their voices had well found themselves in the acoustical intricacies of the building, and they hurried on to their final group of songs with ever-growing satisfaction to the listener, "The Lass with the Delicate Air" being given by Miss Harbeson much as the world would suggest. Miss Harbeson's dignified and impassioned rendering of "Thy Beaming Eyes" by MacDowell, may not be passed over lightly; if there had ever been doubt of her artistry, it must here have met its Waterloo.

Mr. Harbeson's delectably rich tenor voice found congenial vehicles in his last group of songs, which were given with delightful abandon and musical insight, (a) "Her Rose" by Coombs, (b) "The Sky Blue Water" by Cadman, (c) "Tommy Lad" by Martelson. The program closed with a duet, "It was a Lover's Kiss" by Mathew, which seemed a fitting ending to a program designed rather for musical entertainment, than for musical study, which was as it should be. The artists were more than generous with their encores, most of which must have been familiar to even the dull of ear.

Miss Harbeson's voice has grown in volume, her phrasing is most fine, her nuances more eloquent, her delivery more dramatic than when we heard her last. Mr. Harbeson, who has lately been singing in Opera, has the ease and grace in voice and manner of one who is at home in his art, and his voice went straight to the heart of his hearers. Mr. Weedon lent himself, as always, to the role of sympathetic background as accompanist, so that singers and player produced an ensemble pleasing in the extreme. Many from Winchester, Owingsville, Bourbon county and other points attended.

GONE TO FLORIDA

Mr. Paul Strother left for Southland, Fla., last Thursday, to attend the Commencement exercises of Southerland College. While there Mr. Strother will attend the wedding of his cousin, Claude Strother, who will today marry Miss Ouida Knight, of Southerland. Claude Strother, who only recently returned from France, is well known here where he has often visited and the news of his wedding will be received with interest by many friends who will wish the young couple all happiness. After a short bridal tour they will reside at Huntington, W. Va., where Mr. Strother will engage in business with his father.

SOLDIERS ARE NOW READY

Forces on the Rhine Are Ready For Action Should Germany Refuse to Sign Treaty.

Marked activity among the American troops on the Rhine in the last few days show that the troops are prepared for action against the Huns should they refuse to sign the peace treaty. The latest dispatches from Coblenz say General Foyolle, group commander of two French armies of occupation, arrived here Monday for a hurried conference with Lieutenant General Hunter Liggett, regarding the emergency plans of the Allies in the event the Germans refuse to sign the terms of peace.

The activity among the troops within the bridgehead area has been more marked during the last few days than at any time since they reached the Rhine.

The American doughboys are preparing for action, some of them stating that in the near future "they will probably be moving in the direction of Brandenburg Gate, Berlin, or toward the State of Liberty in New York harbor."

FAYETTE WILL HAVE FAIR

Lexington and Fayette county will again inaugurate the Bluegrass Fair. The fair will be held the first week in September and if the plans of those in charge of the movement materialize this will be the biggest and best fair ever held in the city of Lexington. The business men of Lexington are certainly live wires and deserve great credit for the "piz" and energy they put into every movement they get back of.

BIG PRICE FOR HORSE

Mr. John E. Madden, of Fayette county, has offered Commander J. K. L. Ross, owner of Sir Barton, winner of the Kentucky Derby and other big races, the princely sum of $50,000.00 for his fast racer but the offer was refused. The horse has won more than $40,000.00 in the last thirty days.

YOUNG PREACHER HONORED

Mr. Hassell Bowen, a graduate of Transylvania College of the class of 1916 and a candidate for the degree of B. D. at the coming commencement, has just received notice that he has been awarded a resident fellowship in Union Theological Seminary, New York. Only four of such fellowships are awarded annually, on the basis of character, educational qualification and special equipment in the theological lines. It carries a stipend of $650 a year, and is considered one of the highest honors given by the union. Mr. Bowen's brother, Kenneth, a recent graduate of Transylvania and the College of the Bible, has been doing graduate work this year at Columbia and expects to receive his master's degree in June. Mr. Hassell Bowen has been acting pastor of the Sharpsburg Christian church and formerly had charge of the Somerset church palpit. His many warm friends here will hear with pleasure of his selection for the coveted honor.

RAISING MONEY FOR COLORED SCHOOL

Several prominent colored citizens of this city are pushing a drive to raise $5,000 for the erection of a new and modern colored school building in this city. They have already received a donation of $15,000, providing they can raise $5,000, making the school cost $20,000. Prof. G. W. Adams and his associates have accomplished much good locally for the colored race and this very worthy project deserves the commendation of all. All white people interested in the progress of the negro should make a contribution to the school.

Edison said the other day that what the world needs most is $100,000 men.

Somebody else expressed a similar thought when he said that the world is looking for somebody to tell it what to do next.

And yet there is hardly a man who is not worth more to himself than he is getting, if the matter were only gone about right.

He may be in the wrong job now, or he may be in the right place without knowing it.

But it is morally certain that very few men and women are making the most of their opportunities.

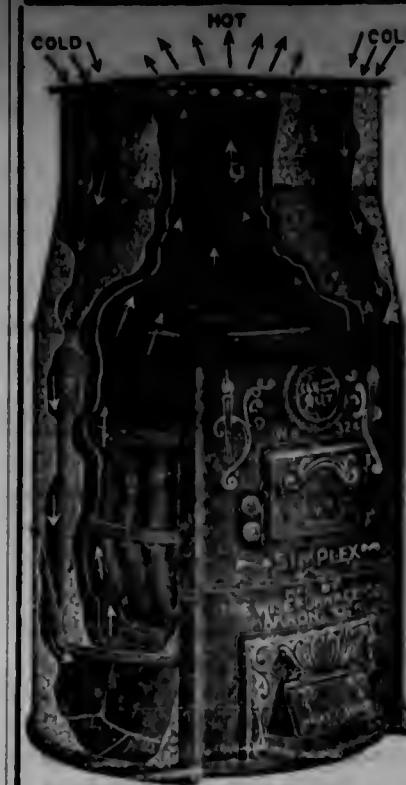

One of the commonest cries is lack of time. What we would accomplish if we only had the time! And all the time we are wasting as much probably as is spent in actual labor.

Go through the shop and ask a workman why this or that job is not complete and the answer is that he hasn't had time.

The business man himself is probably just as inefficient a worker as the man in the shop. He either enmeshes himself in detail that might better be delegated, or he wastes time in poor system or bodily habits.

Instead of pitching into work and taking advantage of momentum which would carry the job through, most of us approach it as if it had teeth and might bite.

It is these small things that interfere with efficiency. And most of them can be corrected by a little self-examination to disclose the weaknesses that hamper.

IT MAY YET BE "ON TO BERLIN!"

Unrepentant, burning with hatred to their conquerors, liars, sniveling hypocrites as ever, the German people, through their insolent, ill-bred representatives at the peace conference, are demonstrating that the world must deal with the same spirit, the same bully when in power, the same liar and hypocrite when conquered, that Germany has ever been.

From the reports that come from Berlin and from Paris we can see more clearly than ever before that nothing less than the flags of the Allies and of America floating over the palaces of the whole Potsdam gang will ever convince the German people that civilization has conquered barbarism. These flags should float there and never be taken down until a repentant, regenerate, re-educated Germany has in sack-cloth and ashes redeemed its soul from the devil to whom it was gladly sold for the promise of world dominion.

Germany murdered millions, wounded and maimed and blinded millions more, outraged womanhood and childhood, sacked cities, looted machinery, cut down even the fruit trees, in order to conquer and rob and rule the world.

No possible punishment can ever one-tenth cover the fearful crime of this war. Punishment to the extreme of individuals and of the nation is the supreme duty of civilization, to God, and to man, and even the peace terms as now submitted, drastic as they may seem to be, are not equal to what justice demands.

Therefore, let there be no possible weakening in enforcing these terms, and if Germany refuses to sign and fulfill them, then let the order ring out clear and strong:

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH OF KENTUCKY. Regulation of the Traffic In and Handling of Eggs.

By virtue of authority vested in it by law, and on account of the importance of fresh, sound eggs as a food product, the State Board of Health, at a meeting held in Louisville, March 6, 1919, adopted and ordered promulgated the following rules regulating the traffic and handling of eggs to be used for human food in this Commonwealth:

Rule 61. Between May 15 and January 15 of each year, all eggs in the market, or intended for market, shall be handled only on a candling basis, and no payment either in cash or merchandise shall be made for those unfit for food. A statement shall be made in duplicate by the buyer of each purchase of eggs, showing the number of good, damaged and bad eggs in each lot, one copy of which shall be given to the person from whom the purchase is made, and the other to be kept on file one year, and subject to inspection at all times by any health or food inspector.

Rule 62. During the warm season all eggs shall be kept in a cool place, all lots of greater than 30 dozen shall be packed in strong, standard egg cases and fillers, well protected from breakage, all cracked ones being packed in separate cases from those with sound shells. From May 15 to January 15 of each year, each case of eggs shall contain upon the top layer a properly dated and signed candling certificate.

Rule 63. No person, firm or corporation shall sell, offer or expose for sale, or have in possession for the purpose of sale, any eggs unfit for human food, unless they are broken in the shell and then denatured in such a way that they cannot be used for food. An egg shall be deemed unfit for food if it be addled or moldy, have black or white rot or a blood ring, has a bloody, white or adherent yolk, or if it consists even in part of a filthy, decomposed or putrid substance. Any person violating any of these rules or provisions will be subject to the pains and penalties provided by the statutes.

I hereby certify that the above is a correct copy of the rules on the subject indicated, adopted by the State Board of Health at a meeting held at the Seelbach Hotel, Louisville, on March 6, 1919. Witness my hand and the seal of the Board, this April 3, 1919.

WOODFORD STOCK FARM SEASON 1919 STERLING CHIEF 2079

Will make the season of 1919 at Woodford Stock Farm, 1 mile south of Mt. Sterling, Ky. at $15 to insure a Living Colt.

This horse is ideally bred, being by Bourbon Chief 978, dam Bessie Lee 1438, by Forrest Denmark 153, who has over fifty colts to his credit that sold for an average of over $850.00 each. Second dam by Blue Jeans 3.

As an individual Sterling Chief is what a stock horse should be: Fine, plenty of type and finish, good size, 15 3/4 hands high, weight 1150 pounds, splendid bone and foot, action absolutely straight and true in all five gaits, perfect disposition and natural tailed horse, this feature being of importance of breeders, having never been worked on in any way. Color, rich dark chestnut.

As to his produce he has sired seven that brought an average of $1357, and an indefinite number that sold for four or five hundred. His colts mature into the right kind for using horses as well as for show, as they have intelligence and can quickly be made into either driving, combined five gaited or running-walk horses.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., May 23, 1919.

In another column of this issue is my announcement of the Republican nomination for the position of Railroad Commissioner for the Third district. I was persuaded to take this step by numerous friends from various sections of the district, and to say I would be proud of the nomination is a modest expression. That the entire people may know me best I will be pleased for the use of a brief biographical sketch. I am of Republican lineage, personal and by marriage. Forty-five years ago I was born in the county of Morgan to H. F. and Sarah Cisco. My father has always believed in the principles advocated by the Republican party, his first vote being cast for that man, towering among the greatest of earth, Abraham Lincoln. My brother, Judge A. N. Cisco, of the thirty-second circuit court district, is an idol of the party he serves. A brother and other relatives have served across the seas and I left the pines in the field in Illinois and returned to my Kentucky home where I cast my first vote for president, that dearest of men, the ever living William McKinley, whose words when advised that his mother was approaching the great divide, passed from urgent duties to wise last words: "Tell mother I will be there." As I began then, so I have continued, voting and working for the party whose principles I love.

My father-in-law, Judge M. H. Lacey, is also a loyal Republican of Morgan county, as true to the party as the needle is to the pin, an ex-federal soldier. Of the pure Anglo-Saxon blood, loyal to country, people, party and her institutions, so well I be to my constituency should I be elected to the goal of my ambition. My motto would be as it ever has been, justice to all men.

By occupation I am a farmer, and it is their interests that are dearest to my heart.

To my people, I submit my political and acquired fitness. I can do as many of them as it will be possible to do and whether I fall on them or not in person, I will acknowledge most graciously the will of my party whose platform, adopted at Lexington, I most heartily approve.

Yours very truly,
adv. CLAY CISCO.

Y.W.C.A. Provides Home For Actresses at Camp Dix, N.J.

Actresses who play in the Liberty Theater at Camp Dix, N.J., find a touch of home in the Players' Home which the busing committee of the Young Women's Christian Association, of which Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is chairman, operates for them. Because of the distance from any town where they might stay, it was necessary to provide some sort of living accommodations for the actresses. The Y.W.C.A. built the house, supplying it with all conveniences such as sewing machines, washboards and ironing boards. Queen Cisco, L. L. has a similar house.

Y.W.C.A. UNIFORMS TO CLOTHE STUDENTS

Suits Worn by War Workers Will Be Given to Penniless Students in Switzerland.

Official uniform of the Young Women's Christian Association minus the Blue Triangle, the Association insignia, will be worn next winter by women students who have been stranded in Switzerland during the war and who, because of lack of funds, inability to re-enter their native country, a desire to finish their university courses or because they have no family to which to return, will remain there next year.

Elizabeth M. Clark, who has been in Switzerland for ten years under the World Student Christian Federation, has appealed to the National Student Committee of the Y.W.C.A. for clothing for the 300 foreign women students in Switzerland. The scarcity of clothing last year among these almost refugee students made it necessary for two girls to share one coat so that only one could go to classes or go out of doors at a time.

Four large packing cases of all kinds of used clothing, save hats, which is in good condition, have been collected largely from women college students in the New England States, Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Delaware by the Student Committee of the National Y.W.C.A. to be sent over in response to Miss Clark's appeal. This clothing will be dyed, cleaned and made over in Switzerland.

In addition to the clothing collected from students in colleges nearest New York a case of uniforms, which have been turned in by Y.W.C.A. secretaries who did war work, and the official gray uniform tunics is being sent. As uniforms are being turned in by war workers they will be claimed by the Student Committee, which will remove the insignia and prepare the uniforms so that they may be worn by these women who have been forced by world events to remain in Switzerland for several years.

QUEEN MARIE INVITES
Y.W.C.A. TO RUMANIA

Extends invitation to Overseas Workers in Paris.

Paris, April 21.—Queen Marie of Rumania, following a conference with a representative committee of the American Y.W.C.A., held at the Ritz Hotel, Paris, has invited the American Young Women's Christian Association to come to Rumania and open work under her patronage.

Among the representatives of the Y.W.C.A. present at the conference were: Miss Harriett Taylor, head of the American Y.W.C.A. work overseas; Miss Mary Anderson of Hudson, Wis.; Miss Mary Dingman, head of the Y.W.C.A. industrial work in France; Mrs. Margaret B. Fowler of Pasadena, Cal., and Miss Charlotte Niven, head of the Y.W.C.A. work in Italy. A notable guest at the meeting was Madame Caterji, wife of the secretary of the Rumanian legation in Paris.

Y.W.C.A. WORKER IS DECORATED.

Miss Marion Porter of New York City was decorated the other day in the name of the Chaplain General of the American army with the Church War Cross.

Her citation was for her moral and spiritual contribution to the war.

For more than a year Miss Porter has been at a hospital center in Vitteil, France, as a representative of the Y.W.C.A. in charge of a nurses' club there.

In short, the department is to be more than finance alone. It is to be a kind of general advisory department and clearing house for all other departments in the French association—a department where dollars will be measured by the needs and wants.

* TRAINING LITTLE CHILDREN *

Suggestions by Mothers Who have Been Kindergartners.

Enter Into the Play Spirit of Your Boys and Girls; Teach Them that Sometimes Work can be Made Into Play.

By Mrs.
Lenore R.
Ranus.

The play-instinct is inborn in all children the world over; it is nature's own method for developing the senses, the muscles and all bodily growth. Play is even more than this; it is the outlet of expression of the child's inner life. Many faults as well as virtues may be discovered while watching children at play. Perhaps a mother will find that her child is selfish or rude, and it is easy to discover a generous disposition and a good temper in the course of a play-hour.

Games are the expression of the play-spirit and toys are the instruments necessary for the expression of this activity of child-life. As a farmer needs garden tools to do his work, so a child needs toys for his play—or work, which play really is to him. And if toys are not provided ready-made, he will invent them, in order to be able to express his play-spirit.

All play depends upon the physical condition of the child. A normal, healthy child plays all the time, is easily interested in his toys and as he grows older invents games with them. If a child plays but little, cannot easily be interested in his toys, will not play alone and is cross, look first to his physical condition, then begin a course of training, or directed play. Start with a suggestion, "Why not build a high steeple?" or "Make mother a train of ears with your blocks?" Often, especially in the case of an only child, if mother can enter into the play-spirit and play hide-and-seek, or march and sing, or even build with the blocks, it is such a treat and often a real help in promoting a readiness to play alone when mother must go back to her work.

Almost every child wants to help mother sweep, dust, make beds, wipe the silver, or run errands. Make play out of the work and yet let the little one feel he is really doing something. With tiny babies too little even to walk, a mother can make play out of work. Have the high chair or the bassinet or carriage in the room where you are working and keep baby busy with toys. For instance, if you are working in the kitchen, let the baby have a big spoon, clothes-pins, tin covers, or anything new and safe, but always keep these things for the kitchen. If he is allowed to have them all the time they soon lose their interest and he becomes restless and unhappy.

A sense of newness even with old toys makes them desirable to a child. Children need change and variety because their power of concentration is not fully developed. This is the plan I use with success with my own little girl. Her box of dominoes, her nest of blocks and her box of building blocks (composed of sixteen cubes), I keep on a shelf in a closet out of sight. I also keep some picture books and toys out of sight. Then when the time comes, as it does so many times a day, when Little Girl says, "What I do now, muvver?" I go to the closet for a surprise. If I give her the blocks, it is always with a suggestion for making something with them. She now comes to me and asks for "a s'prise, muvver." When she tires of the blocks I have her pick them up ready to put away, before she can have another "surprise." Sometimes days at a time she does not ask for a surprise, and then when I do bring out the dominoes, for instance, she is as delighted as if they were brand new. Her dolls I separate in groups. If she has four, I put away two and at the end of a week I bring out these two and put away the two she has been playing with. If you follow this plan with all toys, grouping them and keeping one set put away, you will always keep the little ones interested and happy.

Please pass this article on to a friend and thus help Uncle Sam reach all the mothers of the country.

BUYS FINE STOCK

Dr. J. Lionel Shannon, of Trinidad, British West Indies, has been in Kentucky for several days purchasing fine stock and turkeys for his government to be used for breeding purposes. He bought of J. M. Hutsell, of this county, a splendid Percheron stallion and four Southdown sheep and a high bred mare, the full sister of Jack Barrymore, and three colts. Mr. Hutsell also sold Dr. Shannon a two-year-old jack. Three Hampshire pigs were purchased of Hughes Atkinson; three Dorset sheep from Jess Highland; a pair of Percheron mares from Arch Prewitt and four Bronze Turkeys from Mr. Hutsell. Dr. Shannon completed his purchases in Fayette county. He spoke with high praise of the Bluegrass and said that it was the intention of his government to promote the raising of high class stock in the future.

Games are the expression of the play-spirit and toys are the instruments necessary for the expression of this activity of child-life. As a farmer needs garden tools to do his work, so a child needs toys for his play—or work, which play really is to him. And if toys are not provided ready-made, he will invent them, in order to be able to express his play-spirit.

EXCELLENT WOMAN DIES

This afternoon at two o'clock, Mrs. Sallie Holland, aged about 97 years, died at her home on East High street, after a long illness of general debility. She is survived by five children, Mike, Sam and Thomas Holland, of this city; Mrs. B. Kenney, of Newport, and Mrs. Margaret Hays, of Cincinnati. Mrs. Holland was widely known and highly respected and esteemed. Funeral services were conducted at the Catholic church with burial in St. Thomas cemetery.

CELEBRATES 87TH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Amanda J. Reid celebrated her 87th birthday Friday, May 16, and her children surprised her with an elegant supper which was very much enjoyed by her as she is never happier than when she is with them. Mrs. Reid is a very remarkable woman, being able to do her own work and she is now enjoying her second eye sight. She is the widow of W. T. Reid who was a veteran of the Mexican war and also of the Confederate army, and this last war brought back many things to her that she had gone through. She has been a devout member of the Christian church and is always found at Sunday school and church when she is able. She is now enjoying good health for one of her age and bids fair to live many more years to be a comfort and joy to her children and friends.

Horse Sense About Tobacco

Good tobacco ought to be like a well-bred hoss—all th' kick taken out but all th' spirit left in.

You see, half the secret of makin' a good hoss is in the breedin' an' half in the breakin'. Selectin' tobacco that's grown right is only half of makin' Velvet. The agein' is the other half.

Thar's only one kind of agein' that gets th' right results—Nature's own. Nature's no clock watcher. She does a job right whether it takes two years or two thousand.

So when she gets through with the fine Kentucky Burley that we put away in wooden hogsheads for two years, it's just right.

It ain't been hurried none, or short-cut. It's a Nature-done job.

All kinds of things are packed in tobacco tins, but your good neighbor will tell you "Velvet is the real pipe tobacco." Prove it for yourself.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

We are authorized to announce as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Representative of the 95th Legislative district (Montgomery and Menifee counties) at the August Primary, 1919,

THOMAS L. CAUDEL.

We are authorized to announce as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Railroad Commissioner of the Third District, at the August Primary, 1919,

CLAY CISCO.

MR. CLAY CISCO

We are authorized to announce Mr. Clay Cisco as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Railroad Commissioner in this, the Third District, before the approaching August state primary.

Mr. Cisco is a native of Morgan county and belongs to one of the most numerous and influential Republican families in that section of the state. His brother, Hon. Allen N. Cisco, is now Circuit Judge of the Carter-Elliott-Lawrence district and many other members of the family occupy places of prominence and honor. Mr. Cisco has lived in Montgomery county for a number of years and has always been active in behalf of the nominees of his party. His many friends have already commenced the formation of campaign committees in every county in the district, with a view of making an aggressive fight in every precinct, in his behalf.

The district is largely Republican; in fact, the nomination is equivalent to an election. Being a loyal Republican and worthy citizen, we ask for his claims careful consideration at the hands of his fellow-Republicans.

Even the Ky. Tax Reform (?) Association, in the last issue of its magazine called Taxation, repudiates the State Tax Commission when in the course of an editorial it says: "The recent increase ordered by the State Tax Commission, without any corresponding reduction in the tax rates, seems unjustifiable" and further on says, "but it seldom happens that those who propose and those who enact laws have anything to do with their administration and the good intention is often obscured."

We congratulate the Courier-Journal on the splendid public service it is rendering by turning the light on dark places.

SENSIBLE ADVICE

It is well enough for Democrats to understand now that they must put up their best candidate for Governor in order to defeat Morrow in November. They must not nominate a trimmer or pussy-footer. They must not nominate a political hack, or the creature of any faction or machine. They must not nominate any man who has any old political barnacles hanging to him, or who is the apologist for past blunders or scandals. A man fresh from the people, who has a perfect unassailable personal and political record, who has no ties with any office-seeker parasites, who has some vision and a forward-looking platform of his own, which he is able to defend from the stamp if nominated by the Democrats, with a clean lot of associates on the ticket, can easily win in November. Kentucky is a Democratic state and will readily elect such a ticket this year. But the Democrats must make no mistake.—Owensboro Messenger.

Sad-Faced Thinkers.

A patron of Mr. Dunn's library observes that the people who browse in the fiction department look happy and peaceful and contented, while the people who frequent the technical room look miserable. The phenomenon may be thus explained: The people in the technical room are engaged in thinking, and thinking is the most violent work that the human being does. A football player plunging through the line doesn't look angry. A runner winning a race wears a look of anguish. A man thinking is engaged in a more strenuous undertaking than football or foot racing. Of course, he looks wretched.—Newark News.

House Without Nails.

In Alberni, Canada, there exists a village where no nails have been used in the construction of the houses. These were built by Ruthenian immigrants, and are of the typical Ruthenian style: long, pitch-roofed, thatched, and wide in the eaves. Even the door, an affair of slender twigs, woven and lashed together, savings on home-made lings and is lashed with a wooden bough. The floor is of hewn logs unnailed. The roof is a wonderful fabric of poles and coarsely woven wheat straw ten inches thick, packed tightly and solidly, and laid with such care that it will endure any weather for 20 years.

The Peanut.

Not only is the peanut a valuable human food, but it has also great agricultural possibilities. It is estimated that more than 2,000,000 acres are under cultivation. The estimated yield this year is 80,000,000 bushels. All the states south of the Tennessee-Kentucky boundary grow peanuts. Many factories now make peanut oil—a keen rival of cottonseed oil for salad and cooking purposes. The oil cake left after pressing is a most excellent cattle food. It has a distinct advantage over cottonseed cake in being entirely free of any toxic ingredient. It can be fed with impunity to young animals. The straw is a roughage rich in protein and very edible, being in this respect wholly unlike cotton stalks. The peanut cake also makes a good meal, giving to wheat flour a generous addition of digestible protein. The aristocratic arachis hypogaea—the peanut, goober—has rosy prospects of a brilliant future.

The high prices paid for such nuts as almonds and pecans do not afford any encouragement to use this class of nuts as substitutes for meat. Nutritionally, they are substitutes for meat. Economically, they are not. When they are eaten, however, the quantity of meat required is lessened.

Inscription to British Dead.

"Their name liveth forevermore." This is the phrase that will be engraved upon the great memorial stone which is to be erected in each of the cemeteries of British soldiers who have fallen in the war.

It is the suggestion of Rudyard Kipling, who in submitting the phrase to the Imperial war graves commission wrote: "It was necessary to find a word of praise and honor which should be both simple and well known, comprehensible and of the same value in all tongues, and also standing as far as might be outside the flux of men and things."

"After search and consultation with all ranks and many races in our armies and navies, as well as with those who had given their sons, it seemed to me that no single phrase could be better than that which closes the tribute to the famous men in Ecclesiastes, 'Their name liveth forevermore.'

Religious Publication Points Out
Strong and Deplorable Contrasts Existing in Alaska.

The native Alaskan of today is becoming in some sections, an intelligent and progressive factor in the life of the territory. Recently a daughter of the Hydaburg tribe made application for United States citizenship, and after examination was pronounced qualified to exercise intelligently the duties of an elector—the first native woman of Alaska to receive citizenship. Her father is a staunch elder of the Hydaburg Presbyterian church. All through southeastern Alaska, natives are taking up homesteads, organizing villages upon sound civic principles, reading the daily papers, putting telephones and electric lights into their homes—in a word, are proving the value of Christian citizenship.

But there is another side to the picture and the contrast between the unchurched and the Christian Alaskans is distressing. Scores of villages in the Bristol Bay region live where no Protestant missionary has ever been, and the one Greek priest who had ministered to the needs of 1,700 people is now dead. The revolution in Russia has cut off the support of Russian missions in Alaska, leaving the spiritual destitution and physical wretchedness of large numbers of these people wholly unreleaved.—The Home Mission Monthly.

Carry Your Phone With You.

"By the time the peace treaty is signed we shall be talking across the Atlantic by wireless," says Godfrey Isaacs, managing director of the Marconi Wireless Telegraph company. "One day in the not far distant future," he adds, "I think we shall walk about with wireless telephones attached to our bodies and we shall be able, standing, say in Piccadilly circus, to call up a friend who is flying somewhere. Or we may have an invitation by wireless telephony from a friend flying in France to join him at dinner in the evening. It will not be very long before one will be able to sit at one's desk in London and speak to New York practically instantaneously. In my view it will be as easy to speak to Sydney or Melbourne or to New Zealand."

It is reported that the saloon men of Ohio will test the new prohibition law which went into effect Monday night. Ohio which has been one of the "wettest" states in the union, is now dry.

Losses of Our Merchant Shipping.

From the beginning of the European war on August 3, 1914, to the armistice of November 11, 1918, the authenticated loss of American merchant vessels from acts of the enemy was 145 vessels of 364,449 gross tons, with the sacrifice of 775 lives, as shown by the official records of the Bureau of Navigation, Department of Commerce. These returns do not include the losses of vessels of the American navy or of the American army and lives thus sacrificed recorded by the navy and war departments. They do not include several cases of the loss of merchant vessels in which it is not yet established whether the loss was due to acts of the enemy.

Few Gold Miners Die Rich.

Few gold miners ever die rich, according to A. J. Blake, who was one of the first pioneers who staked claims in the Seward Peninsula district of Alaska, before the rich Nome beaches were discovered.

"It's a peculiar fact," said Blake, "that money made in gold mining rarely sticks to the man who makes it. Gold taken from the ground is the cleanest money extant in that it makes no other man poorer, and yet the men who make money in this way generally die poor."

Did His Part, Anyway.

The day of the peace celebration at Chicago the school children, acting of their own volition, formed a parade and carried out a program, which included singing patriotic songs, after which they took up a collection for the united war work fund. Buddy had kept pace with the older children in everything, singing when they sang, whether the songs were familiar to him or not. When he told about it that evening his mother asked: "What was it you sang?" "Oh, I don't know what we sang," answered Buddy, still enthusiastic over his part in the celebration, "but I sang just the same."

Helped Burn Emperor's Effigy.

During the celebration of victory at Genoa, Italy, a characteristic episode occurred in front of the Garibaldi monument. A group of English sailors surrounded by an immense crowd held a mock trial about the effigy of Emperor Charles of Austria. They condemned him to death and hanged the effigy on a pole, afterward applying the torch. The pole and the effigy were consumed. The Americans and the English took part in all the Italian celebrations with great enthusiasm.

A KINDLY WOMAN

We mustn't wait until after people are dead to speak of their good deeds. Always cheerful and happy, Mrs. Otho Woolley, on First St., has been busy during this recent illness of Flu, going from one place to another, not just merely asking how folks are, but pitching in and helping. She washed, ironed and cooked things, and carried to the sick, called doctors, and helped in various ways. Some places, where three and four in one family were down, she went right in, and so far she hasn't caught the Flu. Here's hoping she won't, but keep right on moving in Good Samaritan fashion.

The advantage of the edge dropping system over the round hole system of planting is that the Black Hawk accurate dropping will increase the yield over the round hole plate planter enough to pay for itself in planting a very few acres, as illustrated in Table No. 4.

THEY LIE IN FRANCE, WHERE LILIES BLOOM.

They lie in France
Where lilies bloom
Those flowers pale
That guard each tomb
Are saintly souls
That smiling stand
Close by them in
That martyred land,
And mutely there the long night shadows creep
From quiet bills to mourn for them who sleep,
While o'er them through the dusk go silently
The grieving clouds that slowly drift to sea,
And lately round them moaned the Winter wind
Whose voice, lamenting, sounds so coldly kind,
Yet in their faith those waiting hearts abide
The time when turns forever that false tide.
In France they lie
Where lilies bloom,
Those flowers fair
For them made room.
Not vainly placed
The crosses stand
Within that brave
And stricken land;
Their honor lives,
Their love endures,
Their noble death
The right assures,
For they shall have their hearts' desire
They who, unflinchingly, braved the fire,
Across the fields their eyes at last shall see
Through clouds and mist the hosts of victory.

THE WORLD'S NEW APPRECIATION OF THE POWER OF ADVERTISING.

Some weeks ago the Manufacturers Record pointed out as one of the indications of increasing appreciation on the part of the public of the power of advertising, the fact that the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention was using thirty or more of the leading daily papers of the South, and also the Manufacturers Record, in an advertising appeal for contributions to its home mission work throughout the South and Southwest.

At that time we expressed our interest in the matter as indicative of the power of publicity wisely directed and expressed the thought that it would be interesting to know the result of the campaign. Rev. Victor I. Masters, Superintendent of Puhneity of the Home Mission Board, in a letter to the Manufacturers Records, says:

"The utterances from laymen and ministers encourage us to believe that our advertising program has been tremendously influential. One State Baptist secretary has said that it was the thing that put home missions across in such great shape. Here are the facts:

"On top of an increase over past records for the year 1917-1918 of $200,000 we have gone forward this year by $313,333 over last year. Our receipts are $1,207,480, while last year they were $694,147. The increase is slightly over 45 per cent.

"All the reports we have from our people I have seen, both ministers and laymen, have been favorable to our enlarged advertising program. The financial achievements for the year have been almost marvelous, considering everything, and other results have been equally as great."

While we are quite sure that the increasing prosperity of the South and the broader spirit of liberality which is spreading throughout the land has had considerable to do with the remarkable increase in the receipts of the Home Mission Board, we are also convinced that Rev. Dr. Masters is correct in attributing a very considerable proportion of this increase to the power of well-directed advertising through leading secular papers. The power of advertising concentrated the thought of the people upon the question of giving and helped to bring forth the splendid results.

One of the most interesting by-products of the war work has been the appreciation on the part of the people of the whole country, and, indeed, the people of Great Britain as well, of the tremendous power for good advertising. England raised a considerable proportion of its mighty volunteer army of 5,000,000 people by advertising. The Red Cross and kindred activities raised their money largely by the power of advertising, and the Government made its enormous sales of bonds through the influence of well-directed advertising, having sought the co-operation of the business people of the country in the advertising campaign that has been carried on for every bond issue.

Out of this condition has grown a new recognition, unlike anything in the past, of the meaning of the publishing influence of advertising. The whole thought of the world has been lifted to a new plane in regard to advertising, and an illustration of the great good that can be accomplished is seen in the remarkable results of the advertising campaign of

"Try to get rich," said Charles M. Schwab. "It's no harder work trying to get rich than staying poor. Poverty may not be exactly a crime, but it invariably carries with it the sentence of hard labor for life."

Did you ever notice that children on the average are better dressed than their parents? and all of which is the spirit by which things are getting better in spite of h—, war, and high water?

Remember that the highest type of man fears nothing, is deterred by nothing, asks for nothing, but demands what he needs as his rights; in short, he dominates both things and inferior men.

of the vast legislative program. Major recommendations of the President were for early return to private ownership of railroads, telegraphs and telephones, for repeal of war time prohibition in so far as applying to beer and wines, for woman suffrage, retaliatory tariffs, protection of the dyestuff industry, and labor and employment measures. The President announced his intention to turn back the railroads at the end of the calendar year.

Penitentiaries are provided for men who are unfortunate in their selection of lawyers.

Arthur Brisbane says that the chief trick in writing is to learn to say an old thing as though it had never been said before.

In other words, one must learn to clothe old ideas in new words.

Brisbane, being one of the most powerful writers of the day his suggestion is valuable, not only to writers but to every man, no matter what his trade or profession.

As a matter of fact are not all successes due to the ability to handle old problems in a new way?

Because we have just been reading about him we will consider Billy Sunday. Everybody has either read or heard of Sunday.

Some people don't like him—but in the present instance that doesn't matter.

Whether you like him or not you will have to admit that this evangelist not only gets by—he also gets across.

The reason is that he is doing an old job in a new way.

The chances are there will never be another evangelist like Sunday. The next successful man in this line will have to invent a new method.

The outstanding successes in the business and professional world are the people who do it differently.

Happiness is a by-product. We can't buy it because it has no price.

Some people try to purchase happiness by getting drunk; others build fine houses, and some travel around the world.

But the goal is as elusive as the horizon.

The main issue in life is service, and happiness is incidental to service.

To try to win happiness from the world without serving the world is like trying to distill gasoline from water instead of from crude oil. It can't be done.

The contractor who erects an honest, substantial building wins happiness.

The statesman who forwards the cause of humanity wins happiness. The judge who rends the law in the light of common sense wins happiness.

Those reckless fellows who balance themselves on four-inch beans, ten stories above ground, and toss white-hot rivets back and forth, win happiness.

The law of happiness is as inexorable as the law of gravitation.

Without service there shall be no happiness, says Nature.

And it's a good law, too.

Our idea of the waste of manpower is a great, big, burly, comic opera pirate lookin' fellow standing all day beside a couple o' pecks of chestnuts roastin' on a plug hat full o' charcoal fire.

The reason we like children is that they are natural, and the reason they are natural is that they are sure of dinner.

HANDS, ARMS,
LIMBS ASLEEP

And Was Run-Down, Weak and Nervous, Says Florida Lady.

Five Bottles of Cardui
Made Her Well.

Kathleen, Fla.—Mrs. Dallas Prince, of this place, says: "After the birth of my last child...I got very much run-down and weakened, so much that I could hardly do anything at all. I was so awfully nervous that I could scarcely endure the least noise. My condition was getting worse all the time..."

I know I must have some relief or I would soon be in the bed and in a serious condition for I felt so badly and was so nervous and weak I could hardly live. My husband asked Dr.
about my taking Cardui. He said, 'It's a good medicine, and good for that trouble', so he got me 5 bottles...After about the second bottle I felt greatly improved...before taking it my limbs and hands and arms would go to sleep. After taking it, however, this poor circulation disappeared. My strength came back to me and I was soon on the road to health. After the use of about 5 bottles, I could do all my house-work and attend to my six children besides."

You can feel safe in giving Cardui a thorough trial for your troubles. It contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs, but is composed of mild, vegetable, medicinal ingredients with no bad after-effects. Thousands of women have voluntarily written, telling of the good Cardui has done them. It should help you, too. Try it.
